

Published at: 17-03-2008

The Committee is responsible for the EU economic and monetary policies, the functioning of the EU Economic and Monetary Union, as well as the European monetary and financial system. Among the Committee's priorities are also the free movement of capital and payments, supervision of transactions from third countries, rules on competition, State or public aid and tax regulations.